

Landlord Guide

Support for your tenants

Introduction

This guide outlines the support services available to students through Sheffield Hallam University. As a landlord, property owner or manager, you will regularly have interactions with our students, some of whom may be facing a variety of personal, wellbeing and welfare issues.

The information below will provide you with the relevant contacts within the University to refer any tenants facing difficulties to.

If you would like to learn more, or require further support, please get in touch with Accommodation Services.

Accommodation Services

Accommodation Services offers Sheffield Hallam students a free, friendly service to help them find the right place to live. We are also the first point of call for landlords, property managers, and private sector enquires.

We administer the Sheffield Hallam Studentpad website, have a wide range of sector knowledge and can signpost landlords and students to the relevant department for specific help and support. As a service, we advise students on all aspects of private sector living, including house-hunting, tenancy agreements, and living within the community.

We also support landlords with updates from the University and wider sector, and can provide information on the local market, changes to housing legislation, as well as advertising options available within the University and help with Studentpad adverts.
